

Advancing Alternatives 2000

This report is designed to be a useful resource for individuals, organizations and institutions interested in adopting least-toxic Integrated Pest Management (IPM) methods in urban and suburban settings. It is divided into two equally important parts: case studies of successful IPM programs and a set of appendices that provide useful contacts for IPM programs, IPM consultants and organizations working towards pesticide reduction.

View as PDF »

Source URL: <http://www.panna.org/issues/publication/advancing-alternatives-2000>