

PAN Newsletter, Year End 2011

PAN's Year End 2011 newsletter reports on progress to keep the carcinogenic fumigant methyl iodide out of strawberry fields despite the efforts of a corporate juggernaut. We also celebrate World Food Day and provide a link to the many people who uploaded their personal stories to PAN's Tumblr site on how the Big 6 GMO/pesticide corporations affect their lives. It delves in the causes of honey bee die-off (colony collapse disorder), and includes our annual report.
